

2025-2026 Total & Permanent Disability

Based on your 2025-2026 FAFSA submission, the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) indicates that you are discharged from repaying prior student loans due to your total and permanent disability status. If you want to borrow another Federal student loan, you are required to notify the office of financial aid and submit documentation that you have recovered and are able to attend school, successfully complete a program of study, and secure employment in order to repay the new Federal student loan you are seeking.
